Originality

There are seven wings which reach out into sea. These wings house the water chalets with windows that open out to the sea beneath you and the sky above. Each outlet and facility in the resort reflects a unique personality all of its own, each with a character and a story from the diary of 'Lord Jennings Avery' - an adventurer (during the Columbus era) who discovered Avillion during one of his many exploits. It is an array of charm, unlike any other resort in the region, an experience not to be missed.
